

2018

Ten Most Endangered Historic Properties

To increase public awareness of endangered historic properties, the Alaska Association for Historic Preservation (AAHP) identifies the Alaska's ten most endangered historic properties during National Historic Preservation Week each May. The properties on this list are nominated by individuals and historic preservation organizations throughout the state. AAHP requests your assistance in identifying historic properties that are endangered.

To nominate a property to the endangered list, please complete and submit this form by March 31, 2018. E-mailed applications are preferred; please e-mail to akpreservation@gmail.com with the subject line: 2018 Ten Most Nomination. Mailed applications will be accepted, postmarked no later than March 31, 2018; mail to:

The Alaska Association for Historic Preservation
2018 Ten Most Nomination
PO Box 102205
Anchorage, Alaska 99510-2205

This nomination form can also be downloaded from www.aahp-online.net, Please include all information requested below:

Property name nominated:

Location:

Property owner's name and full mailing address:

Nominator's name and full mailing address. If you are the property owner, check here :

Nominator's phone: _____ Best time to call: _____

Nominator's E-mail address: _____

PLEASE GO TO NEXT PAGE →

Property Description:

Property history:

Why is property endangered?

Activities under way to save property:

Property listed on the National Register of Historic Places? yes no, but eligible no

Please provide a minimum of two (2) publishable photographs of the property with this nomination. A digital version of each photo is preferred; mailed applications should include a CD with digital versions if possible.

Please keep your responses brief; limit each of your answers to a paragraph or two. If the Ten Most Endangered Historic Properties Selection Committee requires additional information to make a determination on the property you have nominated, AAHP will contact you in early April 2018. Thank you.